

Helcim and Bulkshare Partner to Empower Food Retailers with Cutting-Edge Ecommerce Solutions

Helcim is proud to announce its partnership with Bulkshare Ecommerce, a trailblazing provider of integrated business solutions tailored for B2B and B2C wholesale goods. This collaboration aims to revolutionize how food retailers manage their businesses and serve their customers by combining Bulkshare's robust Ecommerce capabilities with Helcim's industry-leading payment processing platform.

Bulkshare's innovative platform offers an Ecommerce Store and Mobile App (iOS and Android) with no upfront costs, making it accessible to businesses of all sizes. Retailers can now benefit from powerful features, including:

- Integrated Payment Gateway: With Helcim's payment processing, users save up to 25% (on average) on fees compared to traditional providers.
- Easy Inventory and Order Management Tools: Streamline operations and keep track of stock effortlessly.
- Real-Time Sales Analytics: Access actionable insights to make data-driven decisions.
- Customer Retargeting and Marketing Tools: Drive repeat business and improve customer engagement.
- Seamless Delivery Integration: Offer delivery through Uber to meet customer needs conveniently.
- Customer Support Tools: Enhance the post-purchase experience with robust support capabilities.

"We're thrilled to partner with Bulkshare to empower food retailers with the tools they need to grow and succeed in the modern market," said Nic Beique, CEO of Helcim. "This partnership underscores our commitment to making commerce more accessible and affordable for businesses globally. By integrating our payment processing platform into Bulkshare's solutions, retailers can save more and operate more efficiently."

This partnership is set to redefine the Ecommerce experience for independent grocers and small business food retailers, enabling them to focus on what they do best: providing exceptional products and services to their communities.
